Marsh, S. Hogg, of Cochran, Oscar Lawson Die in Attempt to Arrest Man Who Had Lem Sanders

SLAYED BARRICADED HIMSELF IN HIS HOME

Pulaski County Farm Supervisor Following Alleged Men Over Work-Dead

Merely Known

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Cochran, Ga., July 14.—James Hogg, farm supervisor of the farm of W. G. Humphrey in Pulaski county, near here, was shot and killed yesterday afternoon when he defied arrest by three men, one of whom was Lem Sanders, a notorious criminal, and two others, one of whom was a negro, one of the bullets taking effect in the heart. The killing of Marshal Hogg and Lawson died almost immediately after the shooting. The bodies of the two men were found at the hands of the negro. The bodies of the two men were found at the hands of the negro. The bodies of the two men were found at the hands of the negro.

EFFORT MADE TO RECALL ROME COMMISSIONER

W. M. Gammon, Man Under Fire, Blames "Political Soreheads"

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Rome, July 14.—An effort is being made under the provisions of the charter of the city of Rome to recall the Italian commissioner of the city of Rome, W. M. Gammon, who took office last April. The effort is being made by a group of men, known as the "political soreheads," who are opposed to Gammon's administration.

NOTED ATLANTIAN, W. G. HUMPHREY, FORMER COUNCILMAN FROM EIGHTH WARD, WHO DIED WEDNESDAY MORNING AT TOLEDO BEACH.

MR. W. G. HUMPHREY DIES AT TOLEDO BEACH, MICH.

Former City Councilman of Atlanta Had Been Ill Several Months

Mr. W. G. Humphrey, former city councilman, prominent business man and one of Atlanta's most popular and generally beloved citizens, died Wednesday morning near his home at Toledo, Ohio.

News of Mr. Humphrey's death comes as a great shock to his many friends in Atlanta. He had been ill for several months, and his death was a great loss to the city.

Born near Toledo, January 14, 1857, Mr. Humphrey was 48 years old. His early life was spent in the middle west, where he attained considerable success in business.

He came to Atlanta in 1902 as a partner in the firm of Robinson-Humphrey-Wardlaw company, the name which it now bears. Mr. Humphrey had been in poor health for nearly a year. Early in the summer he moved his family to Toledo, Ohio, where he died.

After leaving school, Mr. Humphrey started as a clerk in the Merchants' bank. He left the bank after four years and joined the banking firm of Spitzer & Co. Later he was engaged in the real estate business. He was a member of the Atlanta Athletic club and Dutch Hills Golf club.

THAW IS JOUBILANT AS TRIUMPH SEEMS NEAR

Matteawan Fugitive Confident He Will Be Declared Sane. Verdict in Case Is Probable Tonight

CASE IS GIVEN TO THE JURY AT THREE O'CLOCK

Thaw Chats With Counsel and Smiles at Friends as Prosecuting Attorney Scores His Life Record

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, July 14.—The case to determine the sanity of Harry K. Thaw went to the jury at 3:15 p. m. today. Thaw may know tonight whether he is to be sent to the insane asylum or whether he is to be sent back to the prison. The jury will decide whether Thaw is sane enough to stand trial.

The state had closed its case and there remained only the submission of rebuttal evidence, which it was announced would occupy only a few minutes. The arguments of the attorneys and Justice Hendricks' charge to the jury, Council believed that the case would be in the hands of the jury by afternoon, and that a verdict would be rendered before midnight.

As the jury is acting really in an advisory capacity the real verdict will be rendered by Justice Hendricks. His decision may be rendered immediately after receiving the jury's verdict, or he may defer his decision until tomorrow. The justice has the power to disregard any verdict of the jury.

It was reported today that if Justice Hendricks decided that Thaw was sane, the Thaw family would then be in a better position to make a plea for a new trial. Thaw had been in the hospital for several months, and his death was a great loss to the city.

Summing up for the state, Deputy Attorney General took exception to Thaw's life from his birth until he was deported from Canada after his escape from the state prison. He recalled that Thaw had three times been declared insane, and that he had been in the hospital for several months. He also recalled that Thaw had been in the hospital for several months.

CHICAGO SEES END OF ALL LABOR TROUBLES

Painters, Metal and Electrical Workers Are About to Settle Strikes

(By Associated Press.)
BOSTON, July 14.—A Boston newspaper today received an anonymous letter warning that a bomb would be exploded in the custom house tower, and that it would be exploded "about thirty years." Figures of the amount of the bomb were also given, but it was not understood that they approximate a quarter of a million.

The letter was received by the Boston police, and the matter is being investigated. The letter was received by the Boston police, and the matter is being investigated.

ITALIANS WIN TWO MILES FROM AUSTRIANS

Dispatch From Villach, an Austrian Town, Tells of Victory for Army of King Victor Emmanuel

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, July 14.—The German thrust at Verdun has resulted in an important gain according to Berlin's official statement.

In the Argonne the Germans report the capture of French positions along a front of a mile and four-fifths, the gain extending to a depth of three-fifths of a mile. The hill known as 283 is now in German hands, and the Germans also claim the capture of 2,581 prisoners from the allies.

The latest French statement claims that German attacks in the Argonne were completely stopped. After a heavy bombardment the Germans attempted to break through the British lines, but were easily repulsed.

Reports of an Italian victory in the Carnic Alps with two miles of Austrian trenches captured have been received by a Geneva newspaper. Figures given in Berlin show the sinking of forty-two merchant vessels of the enemy powers by German submarines during the last week of the war, including fishing craft, totalling 125,000 tons.

Almost complete silence veils the situation in the east. Petrograd reports no news from the front. The Italian press, however, declares conditions in that territory unsatisfactory. Rome reports the situation along the Italian front as quiet. The Italian press, however, declares conditions in that territory unsatisfactory.

MANY WONDER IF VITALITAS IS IT Will It Do What Is Claimed for it, and Are Stories About It True?

Is Vitalitas all that is claimed for it and are the wonderful stories constantly heard about it true? Such are the questions some people throughout much of the civilized world are asking. It is a common thing among those who are ill to feel that nature has some curative forces hidden somewhere that if properly applied would restore them to health. Is Vitalitas that something they are asking.

So far the production of Vitalitas has been only sufficient to supply several of the Southern states. Throughout Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi, Tennessee, Georgia and Alabama thousands of people have been freed from disease and have found health and strength in Vitalitas. It is bringing about amazing results in the treatment of many obstinate kinds of ailments such as indigestion, rheumatism, nervous debility and disorders of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and blood.

Vitalitas is nature's greatest tonic and corrective. It is a combination of mineral chemicals and forces blended with in the earth. It is free of any harmful ingredient and is not unpleasant to take.

Talk with the demonstrator and sample Vitalitas at 1300 Peachtree St., N. E., Whitehall street, or write there for information—(Add.)

U. S. WILL ASK BRITAIN TO RELEASE MEAT SHIPS Packers Say No Effort Has Been Made to Advance Hearings

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, July 14.—After conference with representatives of the leading American meat packers today's state department officials said formal representations would be made for release of meat ships detained by British naval authorities. The character of the representations was not disclosed.

The packers complained that despite assurances of expedition of their cases before the British prize court in London, their cargoes have been detained. They said thirty-one Americans, British and other ships carrying the American meat products, detained to the Scandinavian waters, were being held up. Postponements, they said, have prevented them from reaching the market. They were complaining, they said, were content without reason and to the hardship of the packers.

FIGHT SEABOARD'S PLAN TO DISCONTINUE 2 TRANSIT

Road Wants to Take Off Nos. 13 and 14 Between Helena and Americus

At the hearing before the state railroad commission Wednesday strong opposition was offered to the petition of the Seaboard Air Line railroad for authority to discontinue its night passenger trains, Nos. 13 and 14, between Helena and Americus.

The railroad, which was represented by W. G. Lovins, of Atlanta, its division counsel, and C. S. Lake, of Portsmouth, its general superintendent, now operating Nos. 13 and 14 between Savannah and Americus. It wishes to stop these trains at Helena, thereby cutting thirty miles off their schedules, and contends as a basis for the petition that the traffic between Helena and Americus is not sufficient to justify the expense of operating the two trains.

Committees from every town between Helena and Americus were present to vigorously protest against the discontinuance. Among the towns represented were Americus, Abbeville, Rochelle, Pitts, Seville, Milan and Rhine.

ABSINTHE KEPT FROM FRENCH FIGHTING LINE

Not a Single Drop Has Front Admitted to the Front Since War Began

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, July 14.—Not a single drop of absinthe has been admitted within the French fighting lines since the beginning of the present war, according to statements of officials here who profess thorough acquaintance with the French military regulations. Moreover, they call attention to the fact that, by an official decree, dated March 17, last, the French government prohibited the making, sale or transportation of absinthe.

GOV. EARLY'S GRAVE TO BE APPROPRIATELY MARKED

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
GREENSBORO, Ga., July 14.—A simple but appropriate tombstone is being erected on the grave of Peter Early, governor of Georgia in 1814, recently interred in the Greensboro city cemetery. His remains were brought from the old Early home place on the banks of the Oconee, where he had resided since his death.

The removal of the body of Governor Early, wife and son followed a movement throughout the state to begin in Greensboro and Greens county to honor the remains of the early governor. His resting place on the Oconee river has passed for years in an unkempt graveyard, and it would have only a few years before all signs of the grave would have been obliterated.

The removal and tombstone was carried on under the direction of Judge George Hillyer, of Atlanta, a descendant of Governor Early.

MANAGEMENT OF NAVAL ACADEMY IS ARRANGED

ANNAPOLIS, July 14.—Severe arrangements of the whole management of the naval academy marked the opening arrangement in the "going" scandal investigation today.

The defense was begun by Congressman Carlisle.

Mr. Carlisle charged that while the officers of the academy now were raising the cry of politics and political ruin of the academy themselves are trying to enlist political support in their efforts to oust from the academy the seven original defendants in the case.

News and Comment General Assembly

NEW COUNTY HEARINGS FIXED BY COMMITTEE

The constitutional amendments committee of the house on Tuesday fixed the following dates for hearings on new county bills:

Thursday, July 15, Truett and James counties.

Tuesday, July 20, Axson and Atkinson counties.

Thursday, July 22, Cook county.

Tuesday, July 27, Wilson county.

Thursday, July 29, Lanier county.

The hearings will be held in the hall of the house of representatives, and all parties interested for or against these new county proposals are invited to appear on the dates named.

SPEECHES ON W. AND A. BILLS WEDNESDAY NIGHT IN SENATE

The Western and Atlantic committees of the senate and house, of which Senator E. P. Dobb, of Marietta, and Representative Walter P. Andrews, of Atlanta, are chairmen, realizing fully the vital importance to the state of what measures are passed preventing the handling of the W. & A. and providing for its releasing, are going at the problem in the most complete and exhaustive manner.

Wednesday night at 8 o'clock the governor's speech before the committee will give the joint committee the benefit of their experience with the Western & Atlantic road.

Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock everyone who has any interest for or against any of the proposed bills pertaining to the road are invited to appear in the senate chamber for a joint session of the house and senate committees to give their respective views upon the bills.

Tuesday and Wednesday of next week will be spent by the senate and house committees, together with the whole senate, in Chattanooga, inspecting the terminals of the road.

After Wednesday, it is probable that others acquainted with the needs of the road will speak before the committee, after which the committee will take up the bills for recommendations for passage.

Dr. Anna's Flivver To Be Auctioned; She Won't Pay Taxes

Suffrage Leader Won't Try to Save Yellow Car Given Her
by Followers—Sheriff Has Seized It

NEW YORK, July 14.—Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the National American Woman Suffrage association, probably will not attempt to save her little yellow automobile from sale at auction at Media, Pa., next Tuesday.

The car, named Eastern Victory, was presented to Dr. Shaw by a group of her followers here. It was seized at Moylan, Pa., Dr. Shaw's residence, on Monday and is to be sold at auction to pay a tax assessment of $120 levied upon Dr. Shaw in 1913.

The suffrage leader declined to make out a list of her property subject to taxes, on the ground that to tax her without giving her the right to vote would be helping injury upon tyrants.

"In the spirit of 1776," she said, "I refuse to read," she declined to be a party to any act which violated the national constitution.

REVOLUTION ABOUT TO START UP IN CHINA?

Bombs and Military Correspondence Found in Canton. Several Arrests Made

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Evidence of revolutionary plot in China are indicated in unofficial advice to the state department today from Canton where the finding of bombs on two occasions near there during the past six months.

On June 3, soldiers raided a house in Canton where they discovered two bombs and a lot of suspicious correspondence. Two arrests were made.

On May 27, according to the same advice, "a tin containing ten bombs and some revolutionary letters of appointment, badges, etc." were found by the police outside a cottage in Honan.

All the five occupants of the cottage were arrested.

COMMITTEE FAVORS BIBB FOR SOLICITOR

The special judiciary committee of the house has reported favorably on the bill introduced by the Bibb county delegation which provides for a separate solicitor for the city court of Macon.

Presently, the solicitor of the superior court of the Bibb circuit serves also as solicitor of the city court, but sponsors for the bill claim that the growth both of Macon and the Bibb circuit has made the solicitor's office so busy and so lucrative that a separate city court solicitor is necessary and justified.

Last year the bill which is being fought by Solicitor John Rose of the Bibb circuit, was defeated. The new bill was read for the second time in the house Tuesday. Representative Fowler of Bibb, a leading advocate of the measure, declared he is confident of its passage.

J. E. T. BOWDEN WILL BE CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS

J. E. T. Bowden, popular reading clerk of the house of representatives, will be a candidate for congress from the eleventh district at the next election to succeed Congressman J. Randall Walker, of Valdosta.

For some time Mr. Bowden's name has been suggested for the race by several south Georgia newspapers, which he himself had given no intimation of his intentions until Tuesday. Then, upon inquiry by some of his friends, he declared he would be a candidate.

Mr. Bowden is a resident of Waycross and is well known and admired throughout south Georgia. He is a successful real estate man and has taken a prominent part in the campaigns in that section for President Wilson and Senator Hoke Smith.

Congressman Walker has not yet announced whether he will be a candidate to succeed himself. Others mentioned for the place beside Mr. Bowden are Alvin Sellers, of Basley, Appling county; W. E. Lankford, of Douglas, Coffee county; and Grover Edmondson, of Alma, Bacon county.

FOOT AND MOUTH DISEASE HIT PENNSYLVANIA HARD

HARRISBURG, Pa., July 14.—More than 15,000 cattle and 13,000 swine were lost to Pennsylvania as a result of foot and mouth disease, which now is almost eradicated, according to a stock sanitary board. The state livestock estate man has taken a prominent part in the campaigns in that section for President Wilson and Senator Hoke Smith.

Congressman Walker has not yet announced whether he will be a candidate to succeed himself. Others mentioned for the place beside Mr. Bowden are Alvin Sellers, of Basley, Appling county; W. E. Lankford, of Douglas, Coffee county; and Grover Edmondson, of Alma, Bacon county.

Thieves Load Auto on Truck and Dash Off As Owner Looks on

There have been "daring robberies" in Atlanta before, but never until Tuesday did the bold, bad burglars go so bold that they picked up a whole automobile, placed it on a truck and carried it away in broad daylight.

Mrs. W. S. Brand, of 29 Battle Hill avenue, whose husband owns the stolen automobile, reported the theft to the police. To add insult to injury, the robbers carried off the car before Mrs. Brand's very eyes and waved goodbye as they turned the corner.
The car is a small racing machine. Mrs. Brand had alighted from a street car and was approaching her home, and she saw, when a few negroes seized the racer and were swinging it onto a motor truck. Then, truck, tires, racer and all disappeared in a cloud of dust.
Mrs. Brand ran forward in time to save the house and lot.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMS TO FILL U. S. POSITIONS

The United States civil service commission announces several examinations which will be held soon to fill positions under civil service.
On August 19 there will be an examination to fill the place of assistant editor to edit scientific matter. The position pays $2,000 a year.
Other examinations, with the dates and salaries, are as follows: Explosives chemist August 3, $2,100 to $2,700; apprentice electrical engineer, $720 to $960, August 4; ordinance draftsman, August 4-5, $3,280 to $4,400; junior scientific chemist, August 4-5, $1,800 to $1,500; assistant in marketing business, August 4, $1,500 to $1,600; laboratory aid in seed testing, August 18, $720. The examinations are for men only.

DR. JACOBS TO DISCUSS FALL OF GREAT EMPIRES

The fall of the great cities and empires of the world will furnish the subject for a series of sermons by Dr. Thorne Jacobs at the Central Congregational church. The first sermon will be delivered Sunday morning, when he will discuss Babylon, including Nineveh and her empire.
The subjects and dates for the other sermons are: Thebes and Memphis, including ancient Egyptian empire, July 25; Susa, including the Persian empire, August 1; Athens, including Greece and her empire, August 8; Carthage and her empire, August 15; Rome and her empire, August 22, and Constantinople and the eastern empire, August 29.

DEKALB COUNTY FARMERS TO HOLD RALLY TUESDAY

The farmers of DeKalb county will hold a rally at Midway church, three miles east of Decatur, next Tuesday, when prominent speakers will be heard. Prof. L. E. Rast, of the state college of agriculture; Prof. G. W. Froy and Prof. Westbrook, of the same college; and Prof. S. M. McComb, of the United States department of agriculture, have been announced as speakers by R. S. Stunter, farm demonstration agent of the government and a member of the Decatur board of trade.

MRS. IRBY LEAVES ALL PROPERTY TO DAUGHTER

The will of Mrs. Freda Hentschel Irby was probated in common form in the ordinary court Wednesday morning. The instrument disposed of estate valued at $4,000, all of which is bequeathed to Editha Irby, the 8-year-old daughter of the late Mrs. Irby. Mrs. Annie Lemmon, a sister of the deceased, is to be held intact until the beneficiary is 21 years of age.

He Liked the Idea
Despite the little spring day little Willie was cooing without his coat. This worried a neighbor, but her advice went unheeded. Finally she said: "Willie, go home and get your coat, and when you come back I'll give you a piece of cake."
The little worked, and Willie soon returned with his coat on and was duly rewarded. Next day he knocked at the door to announce: "I ain't got my coat on today."

COLLEGE ENDOWMENTS BILL READY FOR HOUSE

Committee Recommends Senate Measure for Passage With Slight Change

Senator Walker's bill to exempt denominational and other college endowments from taxation, provided these endowments do not consist of real estate, passed by the senate, was recommended for passage by the house constitutional amendment committee Tuesday afternoon with one slight amendment by Mr. Roberts, of Hall.

This amendment provides that the profit or income from the exempted endowments shall be used exclusively for the college or institution in question. It is thought that, with this amendment, the bill will pass the house without difficulty and will again pass the senate.

The appropriations committee, of which Mr. Fullbright, of Burke, is chairman, met and considered the general outlook for the year. The new appropriations for this year are so many that if they were all met it would require several hundred thousand dollars in excess of the state's income. The committee feels that few, if any, new appropriations can be made this year.

The militia asks $4,000 this year instead of $25,000 as heretofore; the Georgia Tech. asks $100,000 instead of $50,000; the University of Georgia asks $65,000 instead of $52,500, and most of the departments of the state ask for increased appropriations.

Adjutant General J. Van Holt Nash appeared, with others, in behalf of the militia; Chancellor David C. Barrow, of the University of Georgia, proper, appeared for the university; President R. C. Matheson, of the Georgia Tech., a branch of the university, appeared for the Tech.; Judge Thomas appeared in behalf of the South Georgia Normal school at Valdosta, asking $25,000, the same as last year; and Dr. A. M. Soule, president of the Agricultural College at Athens, appeared to ask for $100,000 for the maintenance fund of the college and its branches, the same as last year.

ATLANTA ARTILLERY IS WORKING FOR RECRUITS

Company Gave Exhibition Drill in Marietta and Aroused Much Interest

The Atlanta artillery, under command of Captain A. J. McBride, Jr., went to Marietta Tuesday in an exhibition campaign which is being carried on to muster strength enough for the required showing at the United States military camp at Annapolis, Md., where the Atlanta battery will proceed Sunday.

The Atlanta battery gave an exhibition drill at Marietta, roused interest in the company and gathered several recruits. The company will accept recruits until Sunday, provided they have some sort of previous military experience, either in the national guard or at some military school.

TWO FINGERS SMASHED ON HAND OF FIREMAN

Fireman P. R. McKinney, of No. 1 station, had two fingers smashed early Wednesday morning when the chemical truck jerked forward while he was putting a block under the wheels. The accident occurred in front of 172 Whitehall street, where a blaze had started in the Home Art Supply company. McKinney was taken to the Grady hospital to have his fingers bandaged.

and $25,174 this year to meet the Smith-Lever bill, and $46,161 for 1916 for the same purpose.

The house committee on ways and means recommended the passage of a bill by Messrs. Jones, of Coweta; Ledbetter, of Polk; and Swift, of Muscogee, to increase the tax rate one-fourth of a mill to provide for teachers' salaries. This bill authorizes the governor and the comptroller general to add one-fourth mill to the present rate of four and a half mills.

About thirty citizens from Murray county appeared before the committee Monday and county affairs to protest against a bill by Mr. Beck, of Murray, to abolish the board of commissioners of that county.

MAYOR MAKES CHARGES AGAINST CHIEF BEAVERS

Chief Executive Promises to Produce Affidavits to Support Case

Mayor James O. Woodward sprang a sensation at the meeting of the board of police commissioners Tuesday night by promising openly to bring charges of a serious nature against Chief J. L. Beavers.

The mayor said that he is investigating the case against the chief and that he will have more to say about it at a later meeting. Captain J. W. English, one of the influential members of the board was absent from Tuesday's meeting, and it is said that a special meeting to take up the mayor's charges will be called when Captain English returns to the city.

Another shot was taken at the chief's famous "vice squad," when Chairman Edwin Johnson, of the council police committee, informed the board that the city could provide only enough money to pay the street car fares of the detectives. This means that the plainclothes men, or members of the vice squad will be forced to pay their own fares or walk.

MAYOR SPRINGS RESENTATION

The mayor told the commissioners in executive session that the charges against Beavers hinge around the case of a well known Atlanta hotel, whose name he refused to make public. He asserted that he had been informed that a young clerk at the hotel informed Chief Beavers that disorderly women were at the hotel, and that Beavers took no action. The proprietor of the hotel, however, in some way learned of the chief's action and discharged him.

The mayor opened up another session by asserting that last Saturday afternoon the clerk in charge of the Empire hotel, which has figured so conspicuously in the controversy between the Men and Religion Forward Movement and Commissioner Johnson, were

BIG ADDITION SOON TO CROWN COTTON MILLS

Investment of Over $250,000 at Dalton Makes Jobs for 500 More

DALTON, Ga., July 14.—The Galvin Building company, of Greenville, S. C., Tuesday afternoon received the contract for erecting the addition to Crown Cotton Mill No. 2, the necessary warehouse and the mill cottages, and construction work starts immediately. The mill officials refused to give out the figures that secured the bid, but the work will cost approximately $175,000.

The buildings, with the necessary equipment, will represent an investment of over a quarter-million dollars. Employment will be given to five hundred additional operatives.

Information that the place was to be raided on Saturday night and consequently moved all women out of the place. The mayor asserted that this information was brought to him by a police officer. The record was produced showing that the Empire hotel was given its license by the 1913 police committee. A. R. Colcord, chairman, on the recommendation of Chief Beavers.

After hearing charges preferred against Police Officer E. Long by Chief Beavers, the officer was exonerated, the board voting to pay him for the loss of time while he was suspended from duty pending a hearing of the charges. Long was arrested at the Union hotel in the room of Mrs. L. M. Watson, where he and Mrs. Watson both asserted he had gone on police business.

Officer J. A. Bozeman, charged with unbecoming conduct calculated to incite riot, was dismissed from the force. Charges against Officer S. E. Greer, indicated by George L. Bell, Jr., a young attorney, who asserted Greer recently treated him roughly and threatened to arrest him, were dismissed, but the board recommended that Greer be removed from traffic duty at the corner of Peachtree and Linden streets, where, it was alleged, he has made himself very unpopular by the manner in which he talks to drivers of automobiles.

AGED WHITE MAN KILLED BY TRAIN AT TERMINAL

Mileage Book Indicates Victim Is R. B. Smith, of Jacksonville, Fla., Florida

A book of mileage made out to R. B. Smith is the only clue to the identity of an aged white man who was struck and killed by an incoming passenger train on track No. 7 at the Terminal station early Wednesday morning.

The book was issued Tuesday in Jacksonville, Fla., and enough mileage had been torn from it to buy a ticket from Jacksonville to Charlotte, N. C. The ticket, dated Tuesday, was also found in the old man's pocket.

From the evidence the conclusion is drawn that the man reached Atlanta on Southern train Number 23 at 5:55 o'clock Wednesday morning and was waiting at the Terminal station for Southern train Number 12 for Charlotte, leaving at 6:55 o'clock.

In that short time he wandered about the shed, stepping onto track seven just as the 6:10 Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic train from Brunswick was arriving. The engineer says he barely had time to see the man walk from behind a post onto the track when the train hit him. He was killed immediately, fearfully mangled.

The body was removed to H. M. Patterson's chapel to await further identification. In a suit case which the man carried were found two shirts and some collars, a purse containing twenty-five cents and a card advertising the Panama hotel, Jacksonville. Employees of Patterson have wired this hotel seeking to identify the dead man. He is smooth-shaven, not very tall, his head covered with sparse gray hair.

CHARGES DEAF SCHOOL FUNDS ARE MISSPENT

Mr. Ayer, of Bibb, Tells House State Institution Is Not Conducted Properly

Discussing a bill for the appointment of a state auditor by the governor, recommended for passage by substitute by the house committee on ways and means Tuesday afternoon, Mr. Ayer, of Bibb, and Mr. Jackson, of Chatham, said things were not as they should be at the state school for the deaf at Cave Spring.

Mr. Ayer declared there was a need for an auditor, and that he hoped the auditor would make a proper investigation of the disbursement of funds for educational institutions.

Mr. Ayer then said that from $5,000 to $7,000 was frittered away annually at the deaf school at Cave Spring. At the proper time, he said, he would expose the matter fully, and unless the conditions were adjusted, he would fight to have the appropriation of $15,000 for the Cave Spring school held up.

TODAY'S EVENING
STORYMatter of Temperature
(Copyright, 1915, by W. Werner.)

I had been a hot day. And before the day had been a hot week, and before the week a humid, oppressive month. The city fairly sweltered. The pavements scorched through leather soles. The parks were brown, the buildings started with warm repugnances.

And Mrs. Baker, ironing in a small, gray-walled kitchen that looked out onto the ugliest alley—or so she thought—in the whole hot, ugly city, paused a moment to sigh desperately, wipe her hot face, and get a hotter iron from the gas stove. The ironing board seemed to leer up at her. The clean clothes, which should have been crisp but seemed to have succumbed to the heat and hung listlessly, occupied a rack and two chair backs. Such a stack of clothes! The day before she was sure she would collapse before they were washed. But washing was cool, pleasant work compared with ironing. And she did collapse when the last napkin was folded white and hot.

But only for a minute. Then she sprang up from the couch on which she had flung herself. And the moment's rest seemed only to accentuate her fatigue. It was 11:30. In exactly seven minutes the children would come tearing in from school for lunch. She set it out crossly, and was cross to the children. On that day motherhood did not seem a sacred thing, but a long irritation.

It was the children's father, though, that had changed her from a cheerful, nervous mother to a cross, miserable woman, whom sight of the children irritated. And under her crossness of voice as she sent them back to the afternoon session, quivered an undertone of pain. Once when, by chance, her eyes went to the mirror over the sideboard she closed them hastily to shut out the sight of the haggard, cross face that met her gaze. Yet she was only twenty-eight.

Dully she spent the long hot afternoon, tidying the six-room flat, and all the time she was brooding over Henry's last words as he left that morning. "I'm sick of working like a dog for a bare living, and as if that wasn't bad enough, this eternal quarreling at home. Lord! It's a relief to get down to the office, even if I have to hunch over a ledger all day." Then he flung over a ledger all day. Then he flung over a ledger all day. Then he flung over a ledger all day.

Looking back, she couldn't remember how the quarrel started. And it didn't seem to have any real cause, except that for weeks she had been conscious of a certain moroseness in Henry's manner. And of course that meant that he was tired of her. Well, she didn't care. She almost felt that she was tired of him. If it wasn't for the children! At any rate, whether he was tired of her or not, he was a disillusioned man. His every word and action had shown it for weeks. And she freely admitted that all the romance had been rubbed out of life for her. What romance could there be in the dreary, day after day grind of work—cooking, washing, ironing, bargaining with butchers, hucksters and grocers? That reminded her. The huckster hadn't come that morning and she had no vegetables to cook. Dreadfully she put on her hat to go over to the grocery store, and there she listlessly bought without really knowing what she had chosen. She was tired of food, anyway. But she went home with her head and heart prepared, trying to be as patient as aching hands and aching heart would allow. Usually she remembered the happy days when she wished they would go, and they for their part were reluctant to go, preferring the stuffy heat of the flat to the sultry scorchiness of the pavement. And supper—it was a nightmare. They gathered around the table and pretended to eat. Henry barely pretended, eating in excess that it was too warm for food. The children, affected by the emotional atmosphere of storm about them, went unbidden to bed, two hours later. Henry got his pipe and went out on the front steps, where he argued irritably with the man who lived underneath. At times the irritation threatened to swell into outright temper. She frowned as she listened from the small parlor, where she was vainly trying to read the evening paper. Why need Henry quarrel with the neighbors? Because he was tired of her?

She asked him the irritated question when he came in. He glared and marched to the bathroom. Alma Baker looked after him silently. She guessed that he was silent to keep from renewing their own quarrel of the day before. That didn't improve her own mood. "I hate him," said Alma to herself. And she rose from the rocking chair and paced nervously through the narrow hall to the kitchen, then back again, bedroom. "It's so hot, mamma," she pining by an open window as little Alma called from the back of the hall, "I can't sleep."

Her mother absently told her to try again. Then she herself lay down on the couch in the dining room. She heard Henry tossing restlessly in the bedroom by himself. Dully she remembered the day before when she had taken in the small supply of wedding presents. Then she remembered the happy serenity of that first year—when marriage was a joy and cooking a delight. She tossed from side to side as the air came heavily.

Well, that first year was gone and the less serene but happy ones that succeeded it. Now, all the best part of life had passed. In the midst of her miserable recollections she remembered there was no fruit for breakfast. She had forgotten to order any. And last of the thought of the fatty stuff. Then warm face, alone in the open window. She had to get up to put down the shade to shut it out. That also shut the air. She shot it up again. "Say, can't you let a fellow stay asleep when he gets asleep?" indignantly called her husband. "I'll answer. She suddenly did not answer. "She could sleep. He did not care—neither for her nor for past happiness nor for anything. She lay with wide open eyes, wondering what she could do. Before marriage she had been an indifferent, atmosphere. She could port the children until she could do it herself. That was merely his duty. She felt proudly. Of course it would be impossible to go on living in this strained way, knowing that he cared no more for her and that she—Alma—could not hold back a dry little sob. That was the worst of it. That she—have come to care no more for him. For she actually did not care whether she ever saw him again or not. And once when he was away for a day life had seemed a blank. Then gradually it changed. The restless lines disappeared, the nervous fidgeting of her hands relaxed. And when she awoke early in the morning all the temer of the day before had vanished. For a moment she couldn't understand the peaceful feeling that enveloped her. She lay quietly, remembering the stress in which she had gone to sleep. How little she had been! What had it all been about, anyway? She wrinkled her forehead thoughtfully. "Alma," called Henry from the bedroom. There was a certain cautious note in his voice. "How about breakfast?" She jumped up. "What time is it?" He told her. Then jubilantly he said, "Say, this chilly air feels bully, don't it?" "Fine," she chirped back. "It must have dropped about 10 degrees."

"Burry-burry," he agreed. "Say, if that hot wave had lasted over this morning

I'd committed wife desertion and beat the kids. I sure was in some bad humor." "Me too," she confided. "I'm so good-natured, Henry, I fairly hated you when I went to bed last night. And this morning I love you as much as I ever did." She laughed. "I don't suppose you got such a thing as bacon," he said longingly. "In the house. It's been at hot for five weeks. I couldn't eat, and this cool air makes me feel starved."

"I don't if luck," she crowed. "I've got that very thing. Don't wake the children, dear."

SENATE DRAWS COLOR LINE IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

White Teachers Barred From Teaching in Negro Schools and Blacks Can't Teach Whites

By unanimous vote the state senate yesterday morning passed a bill to prohibit white teachers from teaching in schools and negro teachers from teaching in white schools.

Senator Lawrence, of the First, in introducing the bill, stated that it was in the same form as an act passed by the Kentucky legislature which has been declared constitutional by the United States supreme court.

Senator Lawrence's statement put to rest the only doubt which had been expressed in the senate as to the bill, and it was passed by a viva voce vote, with no dissenting voice.

The bill, if it becomes a law, will affect, among other Georgia schools, Spelman seminary, a school for young negro women and girls, in perhaps the known of the negro schools in Atlanta which may be affected by this bill. The school is endowed by Mrs. John B. Rockefeller, and is named after her own maiden name of Spelman.

SCHOOL INSURANCE.

As an outcome of the fire which destroyed the only public school building of the Third district, Senator Walker, of the Twenty-second, introduced a resolution in the senate yesterday requesting the governor to insure the property of the eleven district agricultural schools as he is required to by law.

Sixteen thousand dollars was recently appropriated by the house to rebuild the burned Third district school building and Senator Walker said he introduced the resolution because of the insurance coverage by insurance, which section 147 of the civil code requires the governor to provide for.

President Persons ruled the resolution out of order, holding that it constituted an invasion of the realm of the executive department by the legislative department.

In response to a question by Senator Walker, President Persons said that the only way in which this general assembly can deal with the governor's declaration of duty is by impeachment.

In the discussion on the resolution, it was stated that section 147 of the code requires the governor to insure against fire all state property.

Senator Walker's resolution reads: "Resolved, That, in accordance with section 147 of the civil code, the governor is requested to have the property of the eleven district agricultural schools insured at the expense of the state as now provided by law."

BILLS PASSED.

By Senator Way, of the Second, to prohibit white teachers from teaching in colored schools and colored teachers from teaching in white schools.

By Senator Persons, of the Twenty-second, to amend the code so as to provide for the election of local trustees for each school district, subject to the approval of the local board of education.

BILLS INTRODUCED.

By Senator Lawrence, of the First, to prohibit foreign corporations from doing a judicial business in this state.

By Senator Adams, of the Third, to amend the code in regard to the erection of blow posts.

By Senator Akin, of the Fourth, to protect fish, shrimps, etc., on Georgia coasts.

By Senator Lawrence, of the First, to regulate payment of treasury warrants in counties having more than 75,000 population.

By Senator Carlton, of the Seventh, to amend an act incorporating Ellen.

By Senator Thomas, of the Third, to restrict the sale of dynamite, dynamite caps and fuses and nitro-glycerine.

By Senator Pickett, of the Eleventh, to regulate the deposit of funds by tax collectors.

House bill to create board of commissioners for Tattall.

House bill to provide for three terms to the Bacon superior court.

House bill to abolish the office of the Hill county treasurer.

House bill to create office of Cherokee county commissioner.

House bill to create office of Clayton county commissioners.

House bill to create the office of commissioners of Monroe county.

House bill to amend an act so as to provide for creating the board of education of Cartersville by direct appointment.

Senator Adams' bill to create the office of state auditor at $3,000 a year with two assistants at $1,500 each came up for passage, but to give the senate a better opportunity to become familiar with the provisions, the bill was set for Thursday morning, July 22. In the meanwhile 250 copies will be printed and distributed among the senators.

BILLS PASSED.

The house on Wednesday passed the following local bills:

By Mr. Reiser of Effingham—To provide for establishing Effingham county cemetery.

By Mr. Rich of Miller—To abolish the office of Miller county.

By Mr. Rich of Miller—To change terms of holding superior court of Miller county.

By Mr. Reiser of Effingham—To abolish Effingham county treasurer.

The South Wales miners' executive committee today met to consider the situation created by the government's proclamation forbidding a strike pending negotiations regarding the miners' demands under the munitions measure. The mine owners are co-operating with the government in the hope of a settlement, and it is probable the miners will continue to work on day to day contracts until a middle ground is reached.

Germany Resolved to Fight Until Victory Is Obtained

BERLIN, July 14.—(By Wire.)—The finance ministers of the several German states today approved the presentation of Dr. Karl Helfferich, secretary of the German imperial treasury, regarding Germany's financial conditions.

The war loan and taxation and other measures to be submitted at the meeting of the reichstag, including gains for the manufacturers of war materials, also were discussed.

All the ministers present agreed that Germany's financial situation was most favorable and that the nation was most resolved to hold out until a victorious peace was assured.

Both British and French Repulse German Attacks

PARIS, July 14.—Today's war statement follows:

In Belgium, after the bombardment reported in the official statement last night, the Germans attacked the trenches captured by the British on the east bank of the canal southwest of Pilsen, on the night of July 8. They were easily repulsed.

"North of Arras, north of the Chateau de Carleul and 'The Labyrinth' there occurred during the night trench to trench combats with hand grenades.

"Arras and Soissons were bombarded by shells of large calibre. In the region of Somme at Frise and at Fay (west of Peronne) well in the Champagne district near Perthes, mine battles were fought.

"All the attacks concentrated between Marie Therese and the Chevauchee heights were definitely stopped.

"Between the Meuse and Moelle in the forest of Apremont there was artillery cannonading but no infantry action.

"On the rest of the front there is nothing to report.

Allies Lose 42 Merchant Ships During Past Month

BERLIN, July 14.—(By Wire.)—During June, twenty-nine British, three French, one Belgian and nine Russian merchantmen were sunk by German submarines.

The total loss of the entire allies by submarines, including fishing steamers which mostly were armed patrol boats, aggregated 125,000 tons.

The loss of human life was remarkably small, the submarines using every precaution and giving ample warning and time for crews to leave their ships if no resistance was attempted."

GERMANS KICK NEGROES AWAY FROM SUBMARINES

NEWPORT NEWS, July 14.—The British steamer Vindex arrived here early today with four survivors of the mule ship Armanian, which was sunk by a German submarine on June 28, with the loss of more than a score of lives.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY WILL ISSUE BONDS FOR DOUBLE TRACKS

Granted Authority to Spend $3,500,000 on Road Near Spartanburg

Another substantial step forward in the plan of the Southern railway for doubling its line between Atlanta and Washington was taken Wednesday when the state railroad commission granted a petition by the railroad for authority to issue $3,500,000 in bonds, the proceeds of which is to be used in double tracking the line between Spartanburg, S. C., and Central, Ga., and between New Holland, Ga., and Cornelia, Ga., a distance of twenty-one miles.

It is estimated that between a year and eighteen months will be required to do this work, as double tracking is necessarily a slow process on account of the changes in grades and the interference it causes traffic on the main line. About fifty miles a year is what can be counted upon.

The Southern's main line is already double-tracked from Charlotte, N. C., to Washington, and from Atlanta to Gainesville. When the seventy-seven miles to be started on in the immediate future is completed there will still be about 130 miles of single track between Atlanta and Charlotte which the Southern will double track as rapidly as possible.

The $3,500,000 of bonds authorized Wednesday are a part of the $20,000,000 bond issue which the commission in 1914 authorized the Atlanta and Charlotte Air Line Railway company (the work on the double track was before the commission) to create. After authorizing the creation of this $20,000,000 bond issue the commission authorized the immediate issuance or sale of $5,500,000 of the bonds, the proceeds to be used in refunding and paying off the then outstanding bonded indebtedness.

The commission required that the remaining $14,500,000 be held and not issued except on future approval by the commission and for such purposes only as met the approval of the commission. The issuance of the $5,500,000 still leaves unused $11,000,000 of the total issue authorized to be created.

TAX ON SOFT DRINKS OPPOSED BY DRUGGISTS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

CARTERSVILLE, Ga., July 14.—The bill introduced in the house to put a tax on all soft drinks has met with quite a stir here among the druggists who operate soda fountains and the stores generally, all of whom handle bottled soft drinks. It being estimated that there are perhaps over three hundred places in this county where soft drinks are sold.

The druggists have petitioned the representatives from Barlow county to oppose the bill vigorously, upon the alleged grounds of its being unjust, and claiming that such tax would practically confiscate the soft drink business, and drive all the small dealers out, throwing the entire business into the hands of a few who would pay the tax.

Choctaw Crew Safe

PORT HURON, Mich., July 14.—Captain Fox and his crew of the coal steamer Choctaw of the Cleveland Cliffs Iron company, having arrived safely at Port Huron, Mich., after a strenuous voyage, were met here, aboard the Wahoonah of the Canada Steamship Lines, Ltd.

The Choctaw sank immediately after colliding with the Wahoonah. The latter was not damaged.

A previous report said the Choctaw's crew had been lost.

WILSON NOT FORGETTING SOUTH, SAYS ADAMSON

President Doing All He Can to Help Cotton Moving, Says Congressman

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

COLUMBUS, Ga., July 14.—"On the morning that Austria declared war on Serbia, just about one year ago, President Wilson phoned Mr. Underwood, then house leader, and myself, as head of the interstate and foreign commerce committee, for a long conference regarding the probable effect on the south of cotton, and the chief executive has been hard at work ever since that time in efforts to maintain the right-of-way for our main crop on the high seas," declared Congressman W. C. Adamson in an address to the Columbus chamber of commerce Tuesday afternoon, when he was called to talk on the alleged British embargo on the free export of cotton.

"There is no embargo," the congressman continued. "The main trouble is the fact that the British blockade is more effective than that of the Germans, and anything like a shipment of cotton to the enemy of the allies strikes a blow at the cotton market. It is a blow which we might ship cotton to Germany. One is to send it through which the south and another is to try to slip it through. There is no embargo on this great cotton product."

"However, what I want the people of Georgia to understand is that President Wilson is not indifferent to this all-important matter, that the executive branch of the government has been working hard to keep the cotton market open, and that he is still doing all in his power, diplomatically, to keep the south's great crop moving to foreign ports without interruption."

Judge Adamson heartily commended Mr. Wilson on his success in handling the international problems, which have been so difficult and so numerous of late. "We have a great big man for president of the United States," he concluded. Mr. Adamson returned to Carrollton last night.

EARL D. BAPST HEADS AMERICAN SUGAR CO.

NEW YORK, July 14.—Earl D. Bapst today was elected president of the American Sugar Refining company. Simultaneous with the announcement of Mr. Bapst's election it was asserted that Edwin F. Atkins, of Boston, has retired as chairman of the board and executive head of the company.

Mr. Bapst has been a director and vice president of the company since last March, when he retired from the office of first vice president of the National Biscuit company, which he had previously served for many years as general counsel.

He is 57 years old.

The great essential of a resort hotel, as distinguished from a city hotel, is ample public space devoted to the use of its guests, in the form of light and airy Exchanges, Lobbies, Parlors, Galleries and Solariums, affording pleasing vistas and beautiful promenades, the whole combining into a harmonious vision of grandeur and beauty, while replete with the cozy group seclusions of home, and yet affording full view of the pleasing panorama of the resort life. In this essential the Marlborough-Blenheim stands without an equal in Atlantic City or elsewhere.

In "Ownership Management," while accounting for its unique reputation, is a guarantee of the high character of its patronage and the unexcelled quality of its service and cuisine. It employs only white service in both its American and a la carte dining rooms.

It makes a specialty of its high-class music every evening throughout the year, with special Sunday afternoon solo features. Roman, the world's highest Treno, of Venice, is engaged to sing at frequent intervals during July, August and September.

Atlantic City, with its only real competitor (Europe) this year impossible, is offering unusual attractions and entertainments. Two golf courses are daily sources of interest. Two golf courses, the Yacht Club, the famous fleet and the wonderful bathing beach attract their respective devotees, while the pier amusements, the Boulevard, the Casino and the splendid hotel and restaurants, afford equipment for all. THE WINDOW LOOK IN

Tallulah's at Work

In June we delivered from our Tallulah Falls power station over eleven million kilowatt hours of electric energy.

Want the plain English of that?

It means one of the very biggest hydro-electric plants in the United States is in full and successful operation. It means the estimates of Tallulah's resource are being met and surpassed.

Day after day, week after week, this great converter of electric power from falling water has been "on the job," going steadily, without a hiccup, twenty-four hours a day.

For two months, now, both lakes have been full behind the giant dams in Tallulah River. Part of the time they've been running over. Through dry season and wet season, from now henceforth, we've got all the water the Tallulah plant can use.

Engineers throughout the country know the big meaning of that.

Conservationists realize the tremendous saving of coal (around 250,000 tons a year) effected by Tallulah's present rate of power production.

Economists comprehend the stimulus it holds for Georgia's industrial and civic development.

Our biggest project is complete, ready, and at work.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE FAVORS W. & A. BILL

Senate Body Recommends
Measure Protecting State
Road From Parallel Line

The constitutional amendment by Senator Oden Persons, of the Thirty-fourth, president of the senate, providing that no company shall ever be issued a charter by the secretary of state to build a railroad line parallel to the Western and Atlantic railroad, or to build a railroad line that would in any way deprecate the value of the Western and Atlantic railroad, was unanimously recommended for passage by the senate committee on constitutional amendments at a meeting Tuesday afternoon.

The action of the committee means that this bill which is a clean-cut measure for the protection for all time of the state of Georgia's most valuable property, will go to the senate with a very strong advantage, as every member of the constitutional amendments committee who was present at the meeting Tuesday afternoon will support its passage by the senate.

VOTES FOR WOMEN.

The same committee at the same meeting laid on the table for an indefinite time the constitutional amendment giving women the right to vote in Georgia, which was introduced in the senate by Senator Dobbs, of the Thirty-fifth, and Senator Moon, of the Ninety, by request.

This action on the suffrage bill was of course a disappointment to the ladies who are at the capitol working for suffrage, but they hope for better success before the house committee on constitutional amendments and are likewise hopeful that the senate committee will, at an early date, take the bill from the table.

The motion to table the suffrage bill was made by Senator Boykin, of the Seventeenth, and was unanimously adopted by the committee.

The general judiciary committee of the senate at a meeting Tuesday afternoon, voted to recommend the passage of a bill to furnish Goble's form book to all judicial officers of the state and a bill to make the deserting of a wife or child, or both, in destitute circumstances, a misdemeanor.

The special judiciary committee of the senate, Tuesday afternoon voted to recommend the passage of the following bills:

To amend act creating Fort Gaines city court; to change terms of Tallulah superior court; to change terms of Toombs superior court; to amend act creating Leesburg city court; to change terms of Murry superior court; to amend act creating Statesboro city court.

TEACHERS' PAY.

In the constitutional amendment committee, a bill by Senator Stovall, of the Thirtieth, to amend the constitution to legalize the payment of school teachers by the state above the elementary grades was recommended for passage.

At present, said Mr. Stovall, the state cannot legally pay teachers above the eighth grade of the public schools.

A bill by Senator Lawrence, of the First, to amend the constitution so as to add three additional judges to the court of appeals making two divisions of this court, and providing for other changes in the court of appeals, was postponed for further consideration by the committee because there was such a small membership present. A bill by Senator Adams, of the Thirtieth, to pension all Confederate veterans and widows of veterans whether they were worth $1,000 or not, was postponed for the same reason.

After hearing from several persons on an insurance bill to regulate the Lloyd's insurance company and other foreign insurance companies in Georgia, the senate insurance committee adjourned to meet again Thursday night at 8 o'clock in the Kimball House, when all advocates for and against the bills are expected to be present.

$20,000,000 ROYALTY ON CHINESE OPIUM SALE

Compromise Reached Permitting 6,000 Chests to Be Imported at Once

WASHINGTON, July 14.—A compromise in the Chinese opposition to the opium traffic, under which 6,000 chests of opium, the total stock now in Hongkong and Shanghai, may be imported into the province of Kiangsu, Kwangtung and Kiangsi, "as medicine bearing special labels," is said in unofficial circles reaching the state department by mail today.

The 6,000 chests may be imported on payment of royalty of $25,000,000 to the Chinese government, for the whole quantity. In lieu of permitting foreign merchants to import into China 12,000 chests of opium this year and 2,000 chests next year, as provided by the British treaty.

This arrangement is understood by officials here to be probably the result of an understanding with the British authorities with a view of relieving the merchants in the treaty port of Shanghai and the British port of Hongkong of the burden of keeping this immense stock of opium, whose production is prohibited in China.

MRS. LANGLEY FREED; SHE AGREES TO MOVE

AT THE MEETING OF THE POLICE BOARD TWO WEEKS AGO, the papers quote CAPT. JAMES W. ENGLISH as saying:

"The unfortunate women are GONE and the city no longer needs a CHIEF whose SOLE merit is to hound these women."

TUESDAY NIGHT, according to the paper "MAYOR WOODWARD promised to spring a sensation in the police crusade AGAINST scattered vice in ATLANTA."

"THE MAYOR then read a letter from a body of citizens, giving their names, who declared that CHIEF BEAVERS had IGNORED their complaints of an alleged disorderly house."

YOU should read the article and see also how the POLICE BOARD promoted the efficiency of the force and helped discipline.

ONE PAPER says:

"ONE of the most popular policemen on the force was EXONERATED of charges of conduct unbecoming an officer, filed BY CHIEF BEAVERS at the instigation of CAPTAIN A. L. POOLE, who last week arrested—in the UNION HOTEL, South Pryor street, WITH A YOUNG MARRIED WOMAN."

AN AFTERNOON PAPER says:

"ANOTHER shot was taken at the chief's famous VICE SQUAD when CHAIRMAN EDWIN JOHNSON, of the COUNCIL POLICE COMMITTEE, informed the Board that the city, in future, could provide only enough money to pay the street car fares of detectives. This means that the plain-clothes men, or members of the vice squad will be forced to pay their own fares or WALK."

IT IS SIGNIFICANT that there has been sent broad-cast to the papers of the state an article saying "THE EXECUTIVE ABILITY of Chief James L. Beavers, as an independent issue separate from the question of whether he has been right or wrong—is APPARENTLY the proposition on which the Chief will stand or fall."

STATE AND CITY UNDERSTAND.

They see all of the obstacles thrown in his way.

ALL know that while Mayor Woodward speaks of Chief Beavers IGNORING the complaint of a body of citizens as to ONE disorderly house, THE MAYOR has ignored the complaints of FORTY SEVEN MINISTERS, MORE THAN EIGHTEEN HUNDRED CITIZENS, AND HIS OWN KNOWLEDGE concerning FIFTEEN LOCKER CLUBS AND ONE HUNDRED SIXTY SALOONS, each of which is openly violating the laws of the State and the ordinances of the city of ATLANTA.

DOUBTLESS the legislature will knock the WHEELS from the MACHINE now disgracing ATLANTA AND GEORGIA.

WE yet hope COUNCIL will do this in our CITY, freeing it from this stigma, which added to the mud already spattered upon ATLANTA by law-breakers is TOO much to be BORNE.

BUT regardless of this—

THE CHIEF of POLICE should at once free the CAPITAL OF GEORGIA from BLIND-TIGERS even though THEY HOLD the license of MAYOR AND COUNCIL.

NO ONE DOUBTS—

THE CHIEF will scotch THE WHEELS of this poison-spitting MACHINE.

EDISON TO HAVE NINE ASSISTANTS ON BOARD

Best Investors in U. S. Will Work Out Problems of Navy

The Belgian selection thus far announced is Thomas A. Edison who will head the board.

The names of a score or more of possible new members of the advisory council many of them recognized experts in special lines of inventive and research work, are under consideration but Secretary Daniels said that he would not announce the selections until after their acceptances had been received.

The secretary said he was certain that what he had heard was true. He said it would be "composed of ten of such prominent men as to make the country feel that what it is possible for today's youth to do is to devote itself for our navy."

Maxim and Wright Will Serve on Board if Invited
NEW YORK, July 14.—Orville Wright, who is among those suggested for membership in the proposed civilian advisory board of inventors and technical experts, was quoted here today as saying he would accept membership if invited.

"I have had talks with Thomas A. Edison and with army and navy officers who realize the necessity of preparing an adequate air as well as sea fleet," said Mr. Wright. "Army and navy officers agree that we should have from a thousand to thirteen hundred aeroplanes for immediate duty." The board undoubtedly will be a good thing if the members will stick to its advisory function and not try to overstep it. The officers of the army and navy are very efficient and some of 14.—W. H. Hudson Maxim, whose name also was suggested to Mr. Daniels, said he would be glad to serve on the new board.

"It is a mighty good idea," said Mr. Maxim. "I do not know what the powers of the board will be, but I am sure it will be a great benefit to the government, and I think it is the duty of every patriotic American to serve if he is asked."

Your Money
WHERE GOOD MORTGAGE LOANS
EARN OVER 7 PER CENT.
By JOHN M. OSKISON

An agent of the department of commerce recently returned from a trip to the United States. He said that the investigation in South America has been "back optimistic" about the opportunities for investment capital down there, but this does not mean that he wanted to emphasize first of all:

"Don't think of South America as a single country, one economic unit! It is absolutely necessary to find out investment conditions in each separate state. Financial conditions and present the United States to recover the money lost in such countries as Brazil, Argentina, and Chile.

"I believe," said this government agent, "that there is a big and genuine opportunity to establish closer financial relations with the South American countries. The ruling rate of interest, even on good mortgages, is between 7 and 10 per cent.

"There are many excellent investment issues, especially those put out by the big mortgage bankers. These could be sold in our country if our investors knew their real value. It is only a question of time when this will be done.

 One interesting side light is shown in these words:
 "European commercial interests have on the whole, worked against us, and in fact, are still using every available means of trying to arouse prejudice of the foreign banks, for instance, in a

- South America delivering attacks against
- the United States."
- No wonder that England and Germany
- and Italy want to keep us out of a
- country where safe loans on mortgage
- may be made to yield from 7 to 10 per
- cent.
- Information such as this agent
- brought will soon be spread among the
- people of this country; they will take more and more loan investments from South America, and the general public (you and I, if we have some investible surplus) will be asked to buy the securities.

It will be worth while, meanwhile to get as much light as we can on both the countries of South America and on the identity of the responsible bankers down there.
